

German Yield To General Sympathetic Russian Pressure Strike May Be Called

ALLIES ALSO GAIN ON WEST FRONT

Berlin, Sept. 9.—(Via London) —Forces of the Central Powers in the Carpathian Mountains north-west of Kapul, says today's official report issued by the German general staff, yielded yesterday before the pressure exerted by the Russians.

ALLIES GAIN ON WEST FRONT

London, Sept. 9.—Both the French and British took the offensive on the Somme front last night, although their operations were confined to relatively small areas. The French war office reports the capture of a small wood east of Belloy. It says 8,700 Germans have been captured since September 3, and that a great number of German dead were found on the field and in trenches after the unsuccessful counter-attacks of the Germans yesterday. The attack of the British was made in the vicinity of High Wood where the British announce a trench was captured and heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans.

On the Verdun front the Germans renewed their counter-attacks but the French war office announces were beaten back. The Russians have again initiated violent efforts to break the mountain barricades which separate them from the Rumanian plains. It is announced at Petrograd that they have gained a series of heights in the Carpathians south of Beran, taking 50 prisoners and a machine battery.

In the direction of Halez, in Galicia below Lemberg, heavy fighting continues. The Russian statement says counter-attacks made by Turkish and Tatar forces were repulsed. Press despatches from Berlin report that the Bulgarians and Germans are heading down all opposition in Eastern Rumania and have already advanced about fifty miles north of the Bulgarian frontier along the Black Sea coast.

Rumanians Admit Loss of Fort. Bucharest, Rumania, Sept. 8.—(Via London) —The capture of the fortress of Turtukai, on the Danube, by German and Bulgarian troops is admitted in an official communication issued by the Rumanian war office today.

BANDITS MURDER MINE BOSS AND ESCAPE WITH $12,000

Martins Ferry, O., Sept. 9.—Stepping out of the shrubbery along the roadway at Glans Run, three miles west of here, two foreigners shot and fatally wounded Leo Rankin, superintendent of the Florence Mine of the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal Company, took a strong box containing $12,000 in miners' pay from the rear of Rankin's automobile and escaped. Rankin died an hour after the hold-up.

Fifteen minutes after the news of the holdup spread over the district, a hundred miners heavily armed, a pack of blood hounds, police from Bellaire, Martins Ferry, St. Clairsville and Wheeling, W. Va., and other posses started to search the hills in the surrounding country.

Paul Pickens, a chauffeur for Rankin, attempted to save the pay roll by speeding up the machine after Rankin had fallen from the machine with four bullets in his body, but a shot from one of the bandits brought the chauffeur to a halt with his machine before he had gone a hundred feet.

Rankin and Pickens left Martins Ferry this morning for Florence intending to pay off the miners in that district.

ENGLAND TO REMAIN FIRM ON BLACKLIST POLICY

London, Sept. 9.—"It is not likely that Great Britain will change her blacklist policy at the request of the United States," said Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, in discussing today the possible effect of recent American retaliatory legislation. To the Associated Press, Lord Robert stated that a reply to the blacklist protest made by the United States may be expected soon.

Lord Robert, however, declined to enter into the details of the content of the reply beyond the statement that the principle embodied in British legislation forbidding trading with an enemy country, is unlikely to be surrendered in any measure.

The minister of war trade professed himself to be puzzled by the provisions in the revenue bill passed by congress at Washington dealing with the prohibition of imports, as such orders, he said, were adopted strictly in an effort to conserve tonnage and were applied accordingly.

In a general defense of British commercial acts, Lord Robert said to the Associated Press: "Purest Moonshine"

"The ideas expressed by some of your newspapers that Great Britain is adopting a deliberate policy with which to injure American trade is the purest moonshine, since outside of our own domains our trade with the United States is the most important. Of course, natural trade rivalry exists, but no responsible statesman in this country would dream of proposing an insane measure designed to injure American commerce."

"Any impression that the blacklist is merely an entering wedge for a trade warfare after the war may be dismissed at once. I assure you the blacklist is purely a war measure and I cannot insist too strongly that the government is taking every precaution to guarantee its enforcement so as to cause as little hardship as possible to innocent traders."

It was then pointed out to Lord Robert that the belief prevailed that consignments of firms trading with the blacklisted firms might be refused shipment from America to other neutral ports through fear of not getting coal.

Lord Robert replied: "Will Not Interfere"

"This fear is unfounded, as we have no desire to interfere, nor does the law contemplate an interference with legitimate trade. We are taking precautions to prevent an unjustified extension of the blacklist."

Suffrage Will Be Victorious In Short Time Wilson Tells Delegates At Atlantic City

Atlantic City, Sept. 9.—Triumph for the woman suffrage cause, "in a little while," was predicted by President Wilson here last night in a speech before the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

"I have come here to fight with you," the president declared. Immediately the 4,000 women present stood and cheered. A few minutes later Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the association with Mr. Wilson still present, declared: "We have waited long enough to get the vote. We want it now. I want it to come during your administration." Again the great audience of women stood and cheered, waving handkerchiefs.

The president's pledge of support to the suffrage question caused Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the organization, to say in a speech after he closed: "You touched our hearts and won our fealty when you said you have come to fight with us."

Did Not Speak Of Method

The president did not speak on the method by which he would bring about woman suffrage, but said, "we shall not quarrel in the long run as to the method of it."

The women in their speeches also failed to mention the question of method.

Declaring that sometimes he became "a little impatient" over discussions about the channels through which votes for women are to come, the president caused the delegates to applaud by saying "I have felt here the port to the suffrage question"

PROHIBITION HAS REDUCED CRIME 50 PERCENT IN W. VA. CLAIMS OFFICIAL

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Fred O. Blue, state tax commissioner, in a statement made public here claims that in the two years the state prohibition law has been in effect there has been a reduction of 50 per cent in crime and 75 per cent in drunkenness in West Virginia. His claims are based on figures received in official reports from more than 50 municipalities in the state which show that the year before the law went into effect, there were 15,567 arrests, while during the first year after the liquor law was passed this number was reduced to 9,956, and the year following to 3,357.

WEATHER FORECAST

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—Weather predictions for the week beginning Sunday, issued by the weather bureau today, included:

Ohio Valley—Generally fair except scattered showers Monday, and again about Thursday. Temperatures near seasonal normal, moderately warm first part of the week and cooler weather later half.

Great Lakes Region—Local showers Sunday and Monday and fair weather thereafter until about Thursday, when showers are again probable. Warm beginning of the week followed by lower temperatures thereafter.

LABOR LEADERS ARE CALLED TO NEW YORK

New York, Sept. 9.—Union labor leaders of national and state prominence were called into New York today with the announcement by local strike organizers that within 24 hours a conference would be held here, the outcome of which might be a 24 hour tie up of all the city's industries employing men affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. A telegram was sent to Samuel Gompers, president of the latter organization who is on a vacation in Maine, asking him to hurry here. The Central Federated Union announced after an all night meeting that a committee had been empowered to call a general sympathetic strike in all trades if such action was considered necessary to help the employees of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., and New York Railways Company to win their fight for annulment of so-called master and servant agreements binding the men not to ask wage increases for two years.

Police reports indicated that underground and elevated service was normal today and that the situation on the surface lines affected had considerably improved. Union leaders claimed on the other hand that the surface roads were badly affected.

Revenue Bill Effective, Stamp Taxes Lifted

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—The general revenue bill became effective today. Business throughout the country was relieved of the stamp taxes which they have been paying since December 1, 1914, and which were to have continued until December 31 of this year. The general revenue bill repealed the emergency revenue bill stamp taxes.

The stamp taxes repealed include those paid on telegrams and telephone messages, parlor car seats and berth tickets, bonds, debentures, certificates of indebtedness, certificates of stores, transfers, bills of sale, promissory notes, express and freight manifests and bills of lading, bonding instruments, conveyances, insurance policies, entry of goods, power of attorney, protests, perjury, cosmetics and chewing gum.

Fairbanks "Wet" At Home, "Dry" Abroad, Says Hanly

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Charles Warren Fairbanks, Republican nominee for vice president, recently, has proved himself a "Dry" advocate in Canada and a "Wet" candidate at home. J. Frank Hanly, the prohibition presidential candidate declared in an address here today shortly prior to the departure of the prohibition campaign special on a month's western tour.

"Liquor traffic is a commerce which strikes at the very heart of all we hold dear; which debauches men and undermines the very foundations upon which the home rests and threatens the moral fibre of the community itself," Mr. Hanly accused Mr. Fairbanks as saying in a speech at Toronto. "And yet the man who uttered that in absolute control of a great state convention refused to permit it to say a word in condemnation of that thing," continued Mr. Hanly.

"And the national convention that nominated him for vice president refused to say a word against it."

"Mr. Fairbanks also sent as a delegate to the national convention to represent the city where he lives, a wholesale liquor dealer, and selected him as chairman and master of ceremonies the day his party notified him of his nomination."

G. O. P. Wants To Get In, Main Reason For Wanting To Oust Democrats--Marshall

Winchester, Ky., Sept. 9.—Republican criticism of the Wilson administration was reviewed by Vice President Marshall in a speech here today, with the conclusion that the main reason for the country for turning out the Democrats was the desire of the Republicans to get in, and that former Justice Hughes' campaign speeches were but echoes of often heard partisan orations in the senate.

"Not only the keen-eyed newspaperman but the every-day citizen," Mr. Marshall said, "is wondering what is the matter with the Republicans to get in, and that"

15,000 TON AMERICAN CRUISER TOSSED LIKE MERE CORK ON WATER BY UNDERSEA ERUPTION--DRIVEN ASHORE

New York, Sept. 9.—Vivid descriptions of the marine phenomenon which caused the destruction of the United States armored cruiser Memphis, with the loss of about forty of her crew in the harbor of Santo Domingo on August 29, were given today by witnesses of the disaster who arrived on the steamer Iroquois.

The conjecture that the disaster was the result of an undersea eruption was strengthened by assertions that nothing resembling a gale accompanied the sudden disturbance.

The theory that the big sens which tossed the 15,000 ton warship on the rocks was caused by an undersea shock transmitted from a disturbance on the preceding day at Dominica, British West Indies, was advanced by Captain Theodore De Booy, of the American Indian Heye Foundation, an eye-witness of the catastrophe. The theory, said Captain De Booy, is borne out by the fact that Dominica lies east-southeast of Santo Domingo, and the sens threw the Memphis on a west-northwesterly shore....

"The strange phenomenon," he said, "was new to the experience of all who beheld it, including the natives of the island, accustomed as they are to outbursts of tropical storms. It had been blowing a hurricane from the southeast for two days, but on the morning of August 29th, the sea was calm and there was no wind. Then the sea became suddenly turbulent. The roadstead became an angry mass of foaming waves in which no small craft could live."

"As the fury of the marine disturbance increased the Memphis was seen to be dragging her anchor and gradually being driven ashore. Finally a wave that seemed larger than any that had preceded it, lifted up the warship, held her on its summit for a moment and then dashed her down on a submerged reef within 200 yards of dry land. From the aft ventilators of the cruisers was pouring a cloud of steam. Immense waves were still breaking over her, some of them as high as the tops of her funnels and the Memphis was shoved ashore until she was only fifty yards away. An improvised buoy was put in operation and the men on the wrecked ship were brought ashore, some of them terribly burned from explosion of her boilers."

CONSTIPATED, EASILY TIRED, LIVER NOT ACTING?

A Wineglassful of Tollo Water Will Start Your Liver and Relieve Your Constipation In Half an Hour

When your liver gets clogged, the bile is forced back into the system instead of flowing into the intestines and helping them to expel the waste. Nature tries to relieve the liver by absorbing the bile, then you feel drowsy and get tired easily; your skin gets yellow, your complexion muddy and your tongue coated.

Start your liver going by taking a third of a tumblerful of Tollo Water in a glass of plain water before breakfast. In thirty minutes it will wash out the bile tubes of the liver and expel the waste from the system—not like calomel or strong drugs that irritate and weaken, but by giving the liver, stomach and bowels a bath just as you bathe the skin.

Tollo Water is concentrated and bottled at Dawson Springs, the famous Kentucky health resort. You can get a bottle from any drug store for 15 cents, and should take it regularly for several mornings until your skin clears up and you get back your old-time energy and health. After that an occasional glass before breakfast will keep your liver active, your bowels regular and your stomach in perfect condition.

Tried To Knock Mallet Off The Tracks, Failed

The brand on which John O'Connor tanked up Friday was of the real fighting stuff, he trying to knock a big Mallet engine off the N. & W. tracks Friday afternoon.

O'Connor is a stranger though judging from the way he later addressed Jos Stokley as Marshal Davis must have been at New Boston at one time in his life. He had been staggering around in the N. & W. freight house yards on Tenth street above Lincoln street. A switch engine came dangerously near running over him and a moment later the engineer of the freight train shouted to him just in the nick of time. O'Connor made several wild swings at the passing monster locomotive and then turned on Sergeant John Smith and Police Clerk Harry Johnson who arrived in response to a hurry call. O'Connor acted like a wild man for hours after he was locked up at the city prison.

Democrats Organize, Will Hear Sen. James In Campaign

Frank Moore, this city, was elected chairman of the Democratic County Central Committee Saturday afternoon at an organization meeting, held at the offices of H. Stanley, McCall, Brushart building, Sixth and Chillicothe streets. Forty Democratic committeemen attended. The executive committee for the ensuing year was selected after a permanent organization was effected.

Howard Erick nominated Frank Moore for temporary chairman and Thomas K. Brushart, for temporary secretary of the Central committee. These officers were made permanent.

The following executive committee was then selected by acclamation: George L. Gableman, William West, Ora Foster, John C. Miller, J. J. Orelt, Don Stockham, Robert Callahan, H. H. Barney and John Linck.

Enthusiastic reports for a successful Democratic ticket in the fall election were given by several of the nominees in short talks immediately after the organization was effected.

"We have a pretty good chance this fall to elect the Democratic ticket," declared George S. Wilhelm, Democratic nominee for county surveyor. "Of course, I have not been out in the county much in the last few weeks to find the sentiment but I am sure that deep interest is being taken. The reasons for our good prospects are manifold. Heretofore, there had been some differences existing in the party. Now these differences have been more or less healed. In fact, all got out and work it means success."

H. Stanley McCall, Democratic nominee for probate judge, in a short talk urged an active campaign on the part of the committeemen. "We have all got to get out and hustle," said Mr. McCall. "I have been out over the county in the past few weeks and have found conditions good for a successful ticket. All we have to do now is to work. This is the first campaign for president where we have entered with a united party. I find the president growing stronger every day, both in the county and city. Governor Willis seems to be losing power. A good many local Republicans appear to be indifferent over his re-election. I want to urge you all to get out and work. I, of course, am on the non-partisan ticket—the separate ballot—and will have to do considerable of my work myself. But if all the nominees and committeemen get out and work, it will help every one."

"I had expected to leave the city shortly after I became candidate for the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney," Phil Jacobs said. "I intended to definitely give up my law practice and enter the mercantile field. Recently I have found that my affairs would keep me in Scioto county and I expect to remain on the ticket as a candidate. I expect to put the office before my private affairs if elected and I expect to get out and work from now until the election."

"I feel that the Democratic ticket has a good chance of being elected this fall," said George D. Schneider, Democratic nominee for county treasurer. "If elected I can say that I will constantly devote my time to the office."

Conrad Roth, Democratic nominee for congress stated that the Democratic congress which adjourned Friday, had accomplished more than any other ever convened.

"I want to say that President Wilson's administration has accomplished much," Mr. Roth stated. "Take for instance the Federal Reserve enactment. I think that this is one of the greatest pieces of legislation passed in this country in the last fifty years. We have a strong national debt."

For an evening meeting the latter part of October, Mr. Taylor said. Arrangements are being made for a joint meeting between the local and Kentucky Democrats on the evening that Senator James comes. Senator James is considered to be one of the best speakers in the nation.

Ex-Governor James M. Cox, Democratic nominee for governor, and Senator Albee Pomerene, have promised to be in Scioto county some time before the election for a series of speeches.

The executive committee will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to organize and elect officers.

Injured In Runaway

Mrs. Mary Oble and aunt, Mrs. Druse Oble, of Turkey Creek, were both injured in a runaway accident on the West Side Friday evening. # COOPER WAS BOUND OVER

Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur returned Friday evening from Catlettsburg, Ky., with Jeff Cooper, 21, and placed him in the county jail. Cooper is wanted by the local authorities on a charge of cutting Thomas York with a knife.

Cooper was captured at the home of his uncle, about eighteen miles back of Vanceburg, Ky., last week by Deputy Sheriff Rome Arthur.

The prisoner refused to return to Ohio without extradition papers and was taken to Catlettsburg jail pending the arrival of the necessary documents.

Cooper was brought over to the mayor's court from the county jail handcuffed. He pleaded not guilty to a charge of cutting Tom York, April 29, with intent to kill.

Floyd Stone testified to seeing someone come out of the Cooper home about Jeff's size and then run back. John Hockenheimer, of 229 Sixth street, positively identified Cooper as the same he had seen clinch with York but said he saw no knife. He said Cooper ran back into the house.

York just previously was engaged in an argument with the young man's father, Cal Cooper, and when the latter made a pass at him, knocked him down. Cooper's sister then came up and led him away. Mart Dixon told of having seen the elder Cooper and "Beanie" Hans in an argument and that York tried to get Hans away, telling Cooper he did not wish to have any trouble with him and was interested only in getting Hans to start home. He said Tom shoved young Cooper away, when the latter jumped fully five feet towards him, but Cooper came right back and slashed him across the coat, then ran back home. Cooper, when asked by the court, said he had no statement to make, whereupon he was held to the grand jury in the sum of $1,000 and returned to jail. York was not present at the hearing.

To Decide On Special

R. E. Scott, passenger agent of the N. & W., stated Saturday that the question of running a special train to the Apple Show in Ironton next Thursday evening would probably be decided tonight or Monday. The N. & W. is up against it in the way of extra equipment, but the officials are bending every energy to secure enough extra coaches to run a special to Ironton next week.

The N. & W. special to the Apple Show last year carried 1,800 excursionists out of this city.

New Boston Council Must Act On The Petition To Annex

The petition filed Thursday evening by Charles Dixon with the clerk of council of New Boston, asking for a vote on the question of annexing New Boston to Portsmouth will be brought up before the village council at a meeting Thursday evening, September 14, and acted upon. If favorably received, the question will be submitted to the electors at the November election.

To pass the measure a majority of votes cast both in New Boston and Portsmouth will be required.

The proposed annexation of New Boston has been hailed by many as a splendid move. Several citizens living in New Boston believe that the position was filed to block an alleged move on the part of some Portsmouth citizens to annex the village and that it will not carry. Others are sanguine that it will pass by a comfortable majority in both Portsmouth and New Boston.

Will Try To Keep Down Fire Hazards

Mayor H. H. Kaps announced in police court Saturday that he would sustain Chief George Koerner in the latter's fire prevention efforts.

The mayor stated that hundreds of Portsmouth people were careless about keeping inflammable material stored in their basements and about their premises generally, while up in Huntington, W. Va., the practice was strictly prohibited. He said it was therefore easy to understand why the per capita fire loss up to this year was only 10 cents in that city as against $4 here. Huntington people were simply exercising care.

The mayor's views on the subject were uttered during the hearing of John Gaddis, a North End rag-picker, whose arrest Chief Koerner had caused on a charge of causing a fire menace.

Gaddis was accused of piling up shavings from a couple of old discarded mattresses against and also inside a shed at the rear of the Best property at No. 737 Tenth street, although it had been the scene of a fire only a few days before. Gaddis pleaded innocence, claiming that he had expected to remove the pile, but had to go to New Boston in search of work and meanwhile rain had delayed his plans. He was given a $10 suspended fine and warning to be more careful in the future.

Chief Koerner stated that has made 1,000 visits since assuming his office in an earnest endeavor to eliminate fire menaces and while many property owners had responded, they often do other things that offset those they had remedied.

Distinguished Artists Are To Appear In Portsmouth

Never before in the history of the Ladies' Musicale will a more distinguished group of artists appear in Portsmouth under their auspices than during the coming season. The increase in membership of the club has made it possible for this club to procure for the music lovers of Portsmouth a series of recitals that would do credit to a much larger city. Patrons of music look forward to the coming of the music season.

Theo Carle and Helen Pugh, tenor and pianist, have been booked for November 16. Theo Carle has been making such a furor in New York and other cities. He is one who is predicted to be Caruso's legitimate successor. He has been urged to go into the Metropolitan opera and has a magnificent contract with the Victor Talking Machine company, the kind of a contract which only a few great ones like Caruso, Schumann-Heink and others have, and all singers devoutly wish for.

Miss Pugh is a young artist who appeared with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra last year in two numbers, making a very fine impression. Two seasoned managers say that they never heard the big Rigolette Paraphrase played with such magnificence except by the very greatest artists in the world.

Marcian Thalberg, pianist, will come here on January 15. He is one of the best living pianists, a sincere artist and he has made a profound impression wherever he has played.

Maude Fenlou Bollmar, soprano, will be the attraction on March 26. She has a lovely voice and has had a long concert experience. She comes highly recommended by the famous Apollo Club, of Chicago, who brings such artists as Louise Homer, Reed Miller, George Hamlin and others.

The Philharmonic Trio will be here on April 12. This will consist of Loring Wittich, violinist, who came from Europe a year ago who has made a fine impression here; Ferdinand Gardner, cellist, is a graduate of the Leipzig Conservatory, and is very fine; Mr. Richard Gaines as accompanist, and Mrs. Richard Gaines as soloist. Both of these are fine artists.

SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turner, of Grant street, had as dinner guests Saturday their great-grand uncle, Robert Herdman, of Adams county.

The Young Women's Home Missionary Circle of Trinity church will hold its first meeting of the new year Monday evening, September 17, at the home of Misses Lucile and Varona Graham, of 1805 Timmonds avenue. All members are urged to be present and bring their dues for the year, if possible.

The regular meeting of the Portsmouth Court of the Tribe of Ben Hur No. 109 met in regular session last evening promptly at 7:30, in which there was a large attendance. After the business was transacted the Journey Trio furnished the music for the dance. Refreshments were served by two young ladies of the order, Miss Marie Doughty, attended in a pink evening gown of pink pascetta, and Miss Goshie Penfold attired in a gown of white embroidered voile. After the crowd was served a speech was made by Brother George Pfeiffer, presenting the two ladies with a bouquet, donated by the young men of the court for their attractive manner in serving the crowd.

S. J. Slattery, of Highland avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Laramore, of Columbus, are occupying a cottage at Buckeye Lake for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Sandler, of McDermott, were in the city shopping Saturday.

Miss Gladys Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hunter, left Saturday for Athens, Ga., to enter the Ohio University.

Mrs. Walter Micklethwait and Mrs. Cornelia Treuthart will leave in a few days on a trip to Portland, Maine, Boston, Mass., Newport, R. I., Albany, N. Y., and New York City.

Communion Services At 2nd Presbyterian

Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, returned Friday evening from a five weeks' vacation. Rev. Horst visited Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, Washington, D. C., Port Huron, Toledo and Detroit. While at Detroit, he visited home folks.

Rev. Horst was highly surprised while on his vacation to learn that the trustees of the church had granted him an increase in salary of $250 per year.

Communion services will be held Sunday morning. Infants and adults will be baptized at this service. Rev. Horst will have a very interesting sermon for Sunday evening.

Carnival Closes Tonight

The carnival being held in Millbrook this week under the auspices of the Central Labor Council, will close tonight. The banner crowd of the week is looked for. All of the concessions will be in running order up to 11:30 tonight.

The Queen contest for the two most popular young ladies in the city will also be decided tonight.

M. W. OF A. TO BE IN PARADE

At the regular meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America last night, final arrangements were made for the part this lodge will play in the Kora Carnival. The Woodmen will take part in the big fraternal parade. Three candidates were also obligated at last night's meeting.

Ben Hurs Will Go To Huntington, October 7

One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings of the season greeted the officers of Portsmouth Court Tribe of Ben Hur Friday night.

At the brief business meeting an invitation was read from Huntington, W. Va. Court to the Portsmouth court to visit them on Saturday night, October 7th when Portsmouth Court degree team will exemplify the degree work to a class of one hundred candidates. The invitation was accepted and it is expected that a large crowd will make the trip. The fare will be $1.95 round trip, either N. & W. or C. & O. It was requested that all who contemplate going will inform Thos. McLaughlin, the court scribe.

Six applications were read and approved and will be taken in next Friday night. After the meeting the degree team practiced for thirty minutes and from present indications the team will be in first class shape for the Huntington initiation.

The Journey Trio furnished music for three hours for dancing. They have added the harpophone to their equipment and it certainly adds to the beauty of the music.

Onawa, Iowa.—Mrs. Anna Jones, of this place, says: "I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women. For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides with my hands. I tried several different treatments, but was never even relieved. I told my husband I believed I was being experimented on. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui, the woman's tonic, for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as well as I ever could. I am in fine health, at 62 years, thanks to Cardui. Some think I am about 35. It was Cardui, the woman's tonic, that built me up. If I ever need a medicine for womanly troubles, I shall use Cardui, for it is certainly all that is claimed for it."

Are you getting old before your time—drooping around with hollow eyes, drooping shoulders, no life to do anything? Brace up! Take Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has brought the glow of health to many thousands of women's faces, and made them glad to be alive, as is proven by the numerous letters similar to the above, we receive every day.

Ask your druggist about Cardui. He knows it's good. (J.B-4)

GRAY HAIR.
Vaseline is perhaps better than anything else for dry hair. It should be carefully massaged into the scalp and not allowed to get on the hair. This can be done by making a series of parts. If your hair does not keep its natural color when the scalp is in better condition, you might apply sage tea. It is a harmless coloring lotion made by steeping gently two ounces each of green tea and dried sage in three quarts of water until only two quarts are left. When reduced in this manner it must stand for 24 hours, then the liquid should be strained off. More than one application of this is required to get the best effects, and a small brush or fine comb that will put on the tea evenly will be best. The tea does not keep long without souring. This stain will be useless if the hair has not been previously washed and dried before the coloring material is put on. The least trace of grease prevents the dye from adhering. For this reason it is sometimes necessary to put a little soda or ammonia in the rinsing water. I have never heard of using coconut oil for the hair.

Lord Robert expressed the opinion that not only the purpose of the blacklist, but also the real design of the Paris economic conference was misunderstood by the United States, saying in this connection:

"The real purpose of the Paris conference was to arrive at some plan by which to prevent any resumption or extension of the political commercial system, prevailing before the war, in the first place, and in the second to devise means for accomplishing both for ourselves and our allies the enormous task of reconstruction. We fully realize that such plan must involve readjustments of existing treaties, which, with their favored nations clauses now stand in the way."

Her Hair Commenced to Grow After Two Weeks' Use of Newbro's Herpicide

"Fever caused me to be entirely bald. I had given up all hope of again having hair when I was advised to use Herpicide. After two weeks my hair commenced to grow. I now have the most beautiful head of hair anyone ever saw. Praise to Newbro's Herpicide."

Thus writes Mrs. Howard Bailey, of Bellevue, Mich. We can point to thousands of instances where the proper use of Herpicide has been followed by a remarkable growth of hair.

Newbro's Herpicide is "the original remedy which kills the dandruff germ" and stops falling hair.

Applications may be obtained at the best barbers and hair dressers. Newbro's Herpicide in 5c and 25c sizes is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Mr. Grimes stated today that Ironton had made great preparations for their Apple Show and all the booths have been put up for several days.

Still Talking About Diamonds

We want to impress upon the minds of the people that they can make no better investment than a Diamond investment. The precious stones, so much admired by everybody, are getting scarcer and harder to find. It won't be many years until they will probably be extinct so far as being mined is concerned. Then their value will be a hundred fold. Better buy one now while the price is reasonable and within your reach. A diamond is earth's most valued earthly possession. We purchased our stock at the old prices—selling them at our regular margin of profit. We protect all customers because we sell honestly. One thing certain—YOU CAN'T GO WRONG IN THE PURCHASE OF ONE OF WILHELM'S DIAMONDS.

James Arthurs Meets Tragic Death In Ironton; Was On His Way Home

James Arthurs, of this city, employed as a foreman by Henry H. Hossman, a local contractor, in attempting to board a westbound N. & W. freight train in front of the Ironton House in Ironton at 3:10 Saturday afternoon missed the step of a car and fell beneath the wheels of the train. His body was literally cut to pieces, fragments of it being found strewn along the track. The mutilated remains were gathered up and removed to Bingaman and Jones undertaking establishment and local relatives of the dead man were notified as soon as possible.

Arthurs had been in charge of a gang of structural steel men making repairs to the Sarah Furnace in Ironton under direction of Mr. Hossman, who is in Ironton.

According to information received from Ironton, Arthurs was near the Ironton House when the freight came along and he ran for it. Bidding good bye to several workmen, he tried to board the train making 25 miles an hour. His body was seen to sway and a moment later it fell beneath the wheels of the moving train.

James W. Arthurs was single and with his mother, Mrs. Emma Arthurs, resided at 817 Fourth street.

The body will be shipped here for burial.

GROUNDHOG DODGES "FEAST"

Lon Kirkendall, of Jefferson street, is shedding real, genuine tears today and refuses to be comforted. The cause of Lon's woe is that a large, fat, active ground hog which he purchased the other day and which he had expected to keep until the Korn Carnival, decided that it did not like Lon's home. During the night Mr. Ground Hog dug his way to freedom and made a clean getaway. Lon has searched the whole West End, but without avail. If anyone catches sight of a stray ground hog they will relieve Lon mightily if they would call him up.

WAR

Petrograd, Sept. 9.—(Via London)—German and Turkish troops are engaged in stubborn fighting with Russian forces in Galicia on the river Naraiwka in the direction of Halicz, according to the official statement issued today by the Russian war department. A counter attack, made by the Turks and Teutons, the statement adds, was repulsed by the Russians.

In the Carpathians, south of Baranoff, the Russians stormed a series of heights. They took five hundred prisoners, the announcement says and captured a mountain battery of several cannon which had been thrown into the ravines.

Serbian On The Offensive

Paris, Sept. 9.—The Serbians on the Macedonian front took the offensive last night in the region of Lake Ostrovo. The war office announced today that after a violent engagement they captured a height west of the lake.

French Capture Wooded Area

Paris, Sept. 9.—Renewing their assault on the Sonme front last night the French made a further gain. The capture of a small wooded area is reported today by the war office. German attacks in the Verdun sector were repulsed.

"God pity a man who, in his heart believes the liquor traffic to be such a thing as Mr. Fairbanks himself has described and then permitted himself to be counted for it in his own ward."

SUFFRAGE

wholesome contagion of the occasion."

Mr. Wilson aroused the greatest enthusiasm when he said whenever he had come to Atlantic City previously he had come to fight against somebody but that on his present trip, he had "come to fight with somebody."

The women in the boxes, the orchestra, and the balcony stood and cheered.

The meeting came to an end with the president and Mrs. Wilson standing between suffrage leaders joining in singing patriotic songs.

Women Interested In Public Affairs

In his address the president did not mention his previously expressed belief that suffrage should come through action by the states. At the time the United States was formed, Mr. Wilson said, only a lawyer knew enough to run the country, but since the civil war, the country has been faced more and more by social questions and business, which is unprecedentedly large, the people are satisfied with the record of achievement which includes more remedial legislation than ever was written by any two administrations.

"For purely partisan purposes the Republican orators are claiming that the president is an infirm American and that Americanism and Republicanism are synonymous thereby continuing the practice, abandoned by most men, of setting up artificial standards and criticizing every man who does not accept them."

"Day by day, our people are becoming more and more convinced of the genuine purpose of our president to maintain a strict neutrality and more and more confident are they becoming of his ability to preserve an honorable peace. The hypenated citizens who thought they could gather into one force those of every race and every faith for a combined assault against the president of the United States for the keeping of America at peace, have been disillusioned."

G. O. P. WANTS

the speeches of the leader in the verbal assault against the administration. Those most charitably inclined in their judgment towards others suggest that perhaps, he has not yet struck his gait.

"Just now, chief interest in the Republican candidate for president is ascertaining whether he belongs to the progressive race or the standpat stock of his party. The line of demarkation between the two wings of the party is clearly defined but he has not found his bearings."

"In deciding how he shall vote this year, the voter must decide whether he wants to turn all the important committees of the senate—the committees, which control an administration and through which the administration must legislate—over to men, who were brought up in the Aldrich school of statesmanship and are wedded to its policies."

"Up to this time, reasons why Democrats should be put out of power are left to the imagination. The main reason seems to be that ern France, towns, villages and hamlets. The biggest and most important one is Lille, which before the German occupation had about 225,000 inhabitants.

Sir Winston Spencer Churchill predicts a long war. In a speech to the Commons he demanded that the British government put a stop to the scandalous increase in the price of food, designate three meatless days in each week and issue bread and meat tickets. Churchill is coming down to the standard of the rats.

Thomas Gaffney, former U. S. Consul General to Munich and Dresden, who sailed from Copenhagen for New York on the Danish liner Frederik VIII, which was held up by a British cruiser and taken to Kirkwall, has complained to the state department, that he was searched, baggage and person, his private letters, his wife's papers and his American bonds taken from him just as if he were a British suspect and not an American citizen.

The Danish publicist Lindbeck told James O'Donnell Bennett, the war correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, "After what has been done to Greece how can you people talk about Belgium. If you are ever going to set things to rights in Mexico here is your lesson, here in German-administered Belgium. It is a marvel how normally in its physical essentials life goes on in a region which the rest of the world thinks of as a place of mourning and privation."

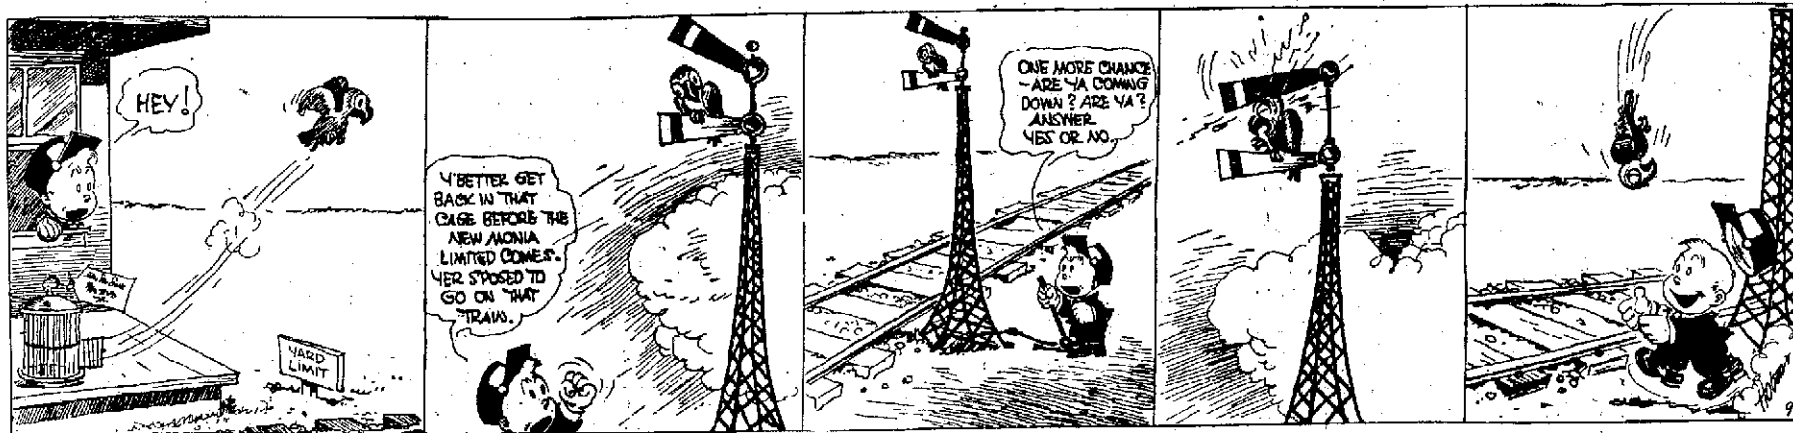

Recruiting for the war is diminishing in Canada. In May 15, 090 men enlisted, in June 10,796, in July 8,675 and in August only 7,246, according to Ottawa records.

The British army has so far lost 38,922 officers by official statement. Counting 40 men to an officer that means a total loss of 1,556,880 men.

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. Korth, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, Sept. 8, 1916.

Another general battle of extensive proportions is being fought on the Somme front between British and French forces of over 300,000 strength, 28 divisions, and the Germans on a front of about 25 miles from the Ancre to the Somme bend and beyond it to the vicinity of Chaunies. It entered on Sunday in the region east of Longueval to Comblès and the most furious fighting was for the possession of Guillemont and Comblès, commanding positions on the road from Maricourt to Bapaume east of the big Albert road. Both roads verge upon Bapaume which lies about five miles north of Longueval on the eastern road and seven miles northeast of Pozières on the western one.

The British report says of this part of the battle: "We pushed forward 1,500 yards east of Guillemont into the Leuze Wood and took an elevation, the Falkenberg farm, from where we can control the Bapaume road with our fire."

South of the Somme river the French captured a line of trenches east of Soyecourt, part of Vermundovillers and the village of Chilly west of the railroad from Chaubais to Roye but failed in their attacks on Barleux, the German main position.

The report of the German staff reads: "In a furious and extended battle which developed from attacks of the British and French on Sunday the Germans held all their positions on both banks of the Ancre against the British and regained ground near the Montquert farm which they had lost. Foot by foot they defended their first line demolished trenches between Ginchy and the Somme. On the second line they brought the enemy to a halt. They held their ground at Thiepval, north of Pozières and at Ginchy, but Guillemont, village and woods, were lost."

In a later report the German staff concedes the claim of the French that they had taken Clercy village and the surrounding hills northwest of Peronne on the road from there to Comblès, which is now under their fire.

By today's accounts the French are attacking Comblès from south and west. The big battle is here at its highest pitch.

A British correspondent in summing up the results of the battle, says: "The Allies are now in possession of all the main points on the ridge from Thiepval south to near Comblès except Ginchy."

But Ginchy is what they were mainly fighting for. If they had taken it they would have been in the German rear.

The writer quotes a British officer of high command with the remark: "If we decide to make no further advance this year we command at least the ridge."

General Haig does not seem to be sanguine of immediate decisive success. The mere possession of the ridge is not what he is fighting for, it is the railroad behind it from Peronne to Bapaume. And this is not the trunk line. That lies some 30 miles back between St. Quentin and Cambrai, where the Germans have another fortified line to fall back to if they lose Peronne and Bapaume which however are yet in their hands.

Yesterday's Berlin review says: "North of the Somme all attacks have been repulsed with tremendous loss to the British, except at Guillemont and Clercy. South of the river our troops maintained their positions against the French from Barleux to south of Chilly, where we evacuated our entire destroyed first line positions. Later attacks (on the inner lines) were repulsed with very heavy loss to the enemy. We captured 1,437 men from ten divisions."

The heaviest fighting is under way in the region of Vladimir-Volynski, southwest of Kovle. We have taken 4150 prisoners."

Petrograd reported a few days ago but it has left us in the dark about the outcome, which must not have been favorable to the Russians.

According to Berlin heavy Russian attacks west of Lutsk miscarried. Vladimir is the terminal of a short road from Kovle toward Lemberg, west of Lutsk which was begun before the war but not finished.

Prince Leopold, who commands on this part of the eastern front now in place of Hindenburg says: "The fighting for the road southwest of Lutsk to Smiruchin has come to a standstill."

According to the Vienna war report the center of Archduke Karl's front between Dniester and Lipa has been pressed back some by the Russians.

In the Galicia Carpathians the Russians are yet fighting fiercely for the passes into Hungary but without result. In the Tartar pass they were repulsed with very heavy loss, Vienna says.

Berlin says of the events of the week on the east front:

Near Kovle and north of Lemberg there has been bloody activity again. South of Lemberg, at Brzezany and Halicz, where the railroads from Stanislaw and Strzy come together, an important strategic point, also at Zborow on the Tarnopol-Lemberg road northeast of Brzezany the Russians attacked but were everywhere repulsed.

Although Rumania's reversal from friend to foe came overnight it did not come altogether unexpected to Berlin and Vienna. Preparations to meet the new enemy had been made, principally by the concentration of large bodies of reserves on frontier points. As the Austrians have to defend a very long line in Transylvania along the Carpathians, they were compelled to shorten it and give up a large part of Siebenbuerger in the southeastern corner of Hungary, which the Rumanians overran through the big Botke Thurm pass. The Austrians retired into prepared hill positions behind the Maras and the Czerny. Only north on Orsova at Mehadia there was some rear guard fighting and along the Aluta river in the Thurm pass.

The Austrians evacuated Orsova and the Iron Gate when the Rumanians advanced in greatly superior numbers.

Budapest (Hungarian capital) claims that the Rumanians are only making slow progress in Transylvania on account of insufficient transportation service, and have been brought to a halt on both wings. As the dispatch speaks of a bombardment of Hermannstadt the report of its fall has either been false or premature.

The Germans and Bulgarians have broken through the Dobrudja fortress line (East Rumania), between the Danube and the Black Sea. The Bulgars took Bazardzhik Dobrich and half a dozen other towns in the old Bulgarian part of the country which was given to Rumania by the treaty of 1878.

The bridgehead and forts of Turtukai on the Danube which protect the railroad crossing over the river from Bucharest to Kustendje on the Black Sea, the base of the Russians for their work in Rumania, have been captured by German and Bulgarian columns after an effective short bombardment. The German general staff announces that more than 20,000 Rumanians and about 100 guns were captured. The loss of the fortress is admitted in the official Russian war report of Thursday. It sounds like the fall of Warsaw.

The German-Bulgarians have practically cut off the Russians from the Rumanians, as the railroad from Bucharest to Kustendje is the only one in Dobrudja, a very poor country with the poor of roads, which Rumania had to take in exchange for rich Bessarabia after the war with Turkey when Rumania helped Russia to win at Plevna, turning defeat into victory.

The Italians started an offensive east of Avlona on the Albanian Adriatic coast, which they have held for almost a year, and crossed the Voyusa river but were driven back by the Austrians. They lost a good many men in their retreat. From the Isanzo and the Alps there has not been any news of consequence this week.

Despite of plan and talk of co-operation between the Allies on the Saloniki front and the Russo-Rumanians to crush the Bulgarians from north and south there has been little activity there. Sofia reports that weak Serbian attacks north of Ostrova in Macedonia have been easily repulsed by the Bulgarians.

The Turkish offensive in the Caucasus is progressing toward the Pontus west of Erzinghan despite of some local failures. The Turkish left wing threw the Russians in the coast country and the right wing defeated them on the Ruphrat. Efforts of the Russians to break the Turkish center failed. The Turks are now standing at Shoruk, only fifty miles distant from Erzerum, which they strive to retake before winter sets in when all operations have to cease on account of the rigid climate. Port Said on the Suez canal has been bombarded by Turkish aeroplanes.

The south and east coast of England suffered the most powerful Zeppelin attack of the war Saturday night. Thirteen Zeppelins took part in it and three of them got into the London suburbs, where one of them was brought down. It went up in flames and the aviators perished. London reports small damage but Barlow says it was considerable. German papers asserted after the Zepp raids in early August that the British insurance companies registered a loss of millions. The German admiralty states that Enfield, Yarmouth, Harwich and the Humber region were bombarded with success, made visible by big fires.

Dar Es Salaam, the capital of German East Africa, had capitulated to the British after a brave two years struggle in isolation. What remains of the defenders has taken refuge among the friendly natives of Mogoro and Mtonbo in the mountains.

The French minister of finance, M. Ribot, has asked the chambers for another war credit of 8347 million francs for the last quarter of the present year, by 500 million francs more than for the past quarter. This increases the French war debt to 61,000 million francs. At the beginning of the war the French national debt amounted already to 30,000 million francs.

Paris states that the Allies since the beginning of their big drive in the Picardie have taken 29 towns. What they have taken are villages and hamlets, not towns. The only towns in that part of the Departement Somme where the battle rages are Albert, Bapaume, Peronne, Roye and Chaunies. Albert is the Allies' base, the other three are in German hands. Even Comblès, Clercy and Frise are only big villages. The Germans occupy not less than 2554 places in North-

Hindenburg the military situation was satisfactory and there was no thought of raising the age limit for military service. He expressed confidence in the success of the new (fifth) war loan.

WEST END NEWS

BACK TO BONAFIDDLE

Leslie Herzog, who has been operating a post card stand at Eleventh and Lawson streets, has decided to move back to the West End. He has rented a small room in the Schuler hotel property on Second street. John Carroll and a force of men were engaged in repapering the room Saturday.

AND LOU ORDERED COAL JUST THE SAME

They are telling a good one on Lou Sommer, junior member of the hardware firm of Sommer Bros., whose engagement to a time enough. "You might call it that in German but I think what you really mean is after your honeymoon," ordered one hundred bushels of coal. He said he was in no hurry to have it delivered and that after the Korn Carnival would be a time enough.

Lunch Room Is Opened

The 3 cent lunch room that has been fitted up in the basement of Wesley Hall Mission, No. 512 Second street, was opened to use Thursday. The room presents a most inviting appearance. The new lodging rooms and shower baths on the third floor of the building have also been completed.

Are On A Visit

Misses Anna and Clara Miller, sisters-in-law of Dr. James Frizell of Buena Vista, were in the city Friday en route to visit friends in Huntington and Charleston, W. Va.

Going to Conference

New Saunders, of the local G. & O. freight office, expects to attend a Methodist church conference at Charleston, W. Va. Monday.

Getting Repaired

BOARD WANTS TRIANGULAR STRIP; TO BEGIN CONDEMNATION PROCEEDINGS

A resolution was passed by the Board of Education at their regular meeting, held Friday evening, instructing City Solicitor S. Anselm Skelton to bring condemnation proceedings against Samuel J. Timmonds for the possession of a triangular strip of land, which adjoins the tract recently bought from Judge Noah J. Derer, upon which the new McKinley school will be built. It was stated that the board desired this triangular strip for school purposes, and the owner failed to name a satisfactory price.

Permission was granted to the executive committee of the Korn Carnival to use the west half of the Second street school yard for exhibition purposes during the Carnival. This space will be devoted to poultry displays.

The appointment of the following teachers for the high school was approved: B. R. Leroy, salary, $1,000; J. S. Davis, salary, $900; and A. S. Johnson, salary, $700.

The Building and Repair Committee was authorized to have drinking fountains installed in the Second street school building.

MAROONED ALL NIGHT ON PIKE

John Carroll, a contracting painter and paperhanger, of 542 Second street, and family, were marooned on the Buena Vista pike, fifteen miles below Portsmouth, throughout Friday night. They were returning from a visit to the Adam Adloff home at Sandy Springs, Adams county, leaving there at 6:30 p. m., when on the way John's automobile developed a "blow out." It was nine o'clock Saturday morning before they arrived back home.

The Head of Every Family

Is paying for a home. If he is living in a rented house, he is paying for his landlord's house, and when he has it paid for, it still belongs to the landlord, and he starts right in paying for it a second time.

When he adopts the ROYAL DEFINITE CONTRACT LOAN plan and has a home paid for, he owns the house and can quit paying or go on saving his money for some other plan to benefit himself and family.

INTEREST RATE IS REASONABLE

Some people say "I would buy a home but I have not enough to cash and the interest is so much." They let the interest scare them. The interest rate is six and seventy-six one-hundredths per cent. The renter pays this to his landlord and a profit besides.

SAVE THIS PROFIT FOR YOURSELF

Why, some people are buying houses through the Royal and letting the renter pay for them. They bring the rent to pay the payments on the loan.

Are you going to keep on buying the landlord's house or are you going to pay for a home of your own.

Come and see us. We will help you get your own home.

"SAVINGS SAVED SAFELY"

A Dutch Colonial Cottage—By John Henry Newson

Home of Character No. 185

Twenty-four-inch shingles are used on the exterior of this old Dutch Colonial Cottage, which, together with the tight shingle barge and simple treatment, accentuates the old-fashioned Colonial design. The wide porch extends across the entire front of the house and the large kitchen is inclosed in lattice, making an out-of-door kitchen for the warm months.

The living room and library make practically one room and the dining room also opens into the living room with a wide arch. The kitchen and dining room are connected by a service pantry and the breakfast room or porch makes an attractive feature. The second floor contains three bedrooms, bath and a large sleeping porch; no attic, but basement under main rooms.

This house, 36x27 feet, was built complete, except furnace, for a little under $3000. A furnace would cost about $100 more. It should be duplicated for the same sum.

Any Times reader, who desires further information concerning No. 185, should address "John Henry Newson, Homes of Character Dept., The Times." There will be no charge for Mr. Newson's answers.

EVERYTHING ELECTRICAL

IT'S WARM ENOUGH THESE DAYS WITHOUT ADDING ANY MORE HEAT!

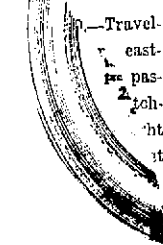

The idea right now is to reduce the heat in the home, the work shop and the factories. When the thermometer is hovering in the nineties, enjoy the cooling current from an electric fan—costs no more to operate than burning an incandescent light. Don't swelter keep cool—an electric fan will solve the problem.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS GIVE BRILLIANT LIGHT AND NO HEAT!

The light is mellow, restful and as near like daylight as the sun's rays. Be comfortable, be happy, be contented, be sensible—do things electrical in these progressive days. Whether you own your home or rent it, ought to see it has electric service. We will be glad to talk to you any time about how little it costs and what are its manifold advantages.

Dairy Barn Fuel For Greedy Flames

While the city was enshrouded in a heavy blanket of fog early Saturday morning, fire was discovered in a dairy barn belonging to Henry T. Hanes, rear of 2503 Gallia street.

The fire had gained considerable of a headway before the East End and Hilltop companies were summoned. The building was completely destroyed with a loss of about $1,200, partially covered by insurance.

The alarm was sounded at 2:21 and the fire was out at 3:30 a. m. Luckily, Mr. Hanes uses his barn only for milking purposes, and his stock was in a pasture when the fire was discovered. Twelve tons of hay was stored in the mow. It was a complete loss.

Firemen succeeded in saving adjacent buildings.

Fire Chief George Koerner stated Saturday that he desired to thank Mrs. R. D. Wunsley, 2501 Gallia street, for the hot luncheon which she served his men after the fire was extinguished.

Officer J. H. Lewis qualified as a real hero at the Henry Hanes barn fire at Gallia and Linde, avenues

Two Splendid Sermons At The First Christian

Every indication points to a great revival of interest at the First Christian church and Bible school. With Rev. Charles R. Oakley back from his vacation, with the knowledge that his sermons will be full of wisdom, with all organizations of the church life working in harmony, the outlook for a great fall campaign was never better. The church of the cordial welcome. Big things are expected tomorrow. Both at Bible school and church services. Practically all sections have come to a delightful end, and the regulars will be back in their places, make no mistake about it. Everything will be running on high, with all cylinders hitting and no weak spark plugs. The road is cleared of all chuck-holes and the dust will be flying in all directions.

John Williams, president of the men's Bible class, states that he expects his men to crack all records from now on. At a meeting held on Friday evening, interest was shown to be high and enthusiasm at the building point. The weather is delightful these days, and no one, unless sick, can give a real honest excuse for abstaining from church, especially members.

Rev. Oakley promises two helpful sermons tomorrow. In the morning his subject will be "Who Is My Brother?" and in the evening his theme will be "The Seed of the Kingdom." Come and hear these two able discourses.

PRESBYTERY MEETS MONDAY

The Portsmouth Presbytery will hold a series of meetings at West Union, Monday and Tuesday of next week. The meeting promises to be well attended as a splendid program has been arranged.

EVERY MEMBER CANVASS SUNDAY AFTERNOON

At next Sunday afternoon, both the current expenses and the benevolences for the new year. All of the members of Trinity church are kindly requested to remain at home on next Sunday between the hours of two and five-thirty p. m. to receive the canvassers. The hearty support and co-operation of all is desired.

TO NAME "GERMAN DAY" COMMITTEE

The regular bi-monthly meeting committees will be appointed for the German-American Alliance celebration of German Day, to be at Harbort hall tomorrow, be celebrated some date around Sunday, 3 p. m. at which meeting the 20th of October.

Will Lay Cornerstone Of Pine Grove Church

Rev. Father T. A. Goebel, of this city, and Rev. Father Henry Richter, of Henley, expect to leave Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, to attend the corner-stone laying of the new St. Mary's church at Pine Grove, Lawrence county. Rt. Rev. J. J. Hartley, Bishop of Columbus, will officiate at the ceremonies. The new church, of which Rev. F. X. Clarke is the pastor, will cost $10,000 and will be of English Gothic architecture. On account of Father Goebel's absence there will be no Sunday school or vespers at St. Mary's church Sunday afternoon. The solemn blessing of the Holy Name banner, imported from Germany some months ago, will take place at St. Mary's during early mass next Sunday morning, when all of the men of the parish are expected to receive communion. Rev. Father Casey, a Dominican priest of Aquinas college, Columbus, will assist in the services.

WILL RE-OPEN CHURCH TOMORROW

The new coat of paint on the Central Presbyterian church, located at the corner of Chillicothe and Seventh streets, is a decided improvement to the property and adds much to the attractiveness of the business district in which it is located.

The improvements are not confined to the exterior for the interior has been renovated and frescoed and a beautiful lighting system has been installed.

Sunday is re-opening day. Superintendent John J. Brandel will be pleased to see all teachers, officers and scholars assembled promptly at nine o'clock. Rev. Cartwright has prepared a sermon suitable for the occasion. Come to Sunday School and remain for this service at ten o'clock. It will be necessary to attend the evening service at 7 o'clock in order to appreciate the new lights.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Three strong reasons urge you to buy the Ford car: First, because of its record of satisfactory service to more than fifteen hundred thousand owners; Second, because of the reliability of the Company which makes it; Third, because of its large radiator and enclosed fan, streamline hood, crown fenders front and rear, black finish, nickel trimmings, it is most attractive in appearance. To these must be added its wonderful economy in operation and maintenance—about two cents a mile; likewise the fact—that by reason of its simplicity in construction anyone can operate and care for it. Lesson XI.—Third Quarter, For Sept. 10, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xxi, 17-40. Memory Verses, 31, 32—Golden Text, Acts xxii, 15—Commentary Prepared by Rev. O. M. Stearns.

This chapter tells of the completion of Paul's return journey to Jerusalem from his third missionary tour and of some of the happenings there after his return. Our lesson two weeks ago was his farewell to the elders of the church at Ephesus who came to Miletus to meet him. Sailing by the south of the island of Cyprus, they landed at Tyre and, finding disciples, tarried there seven days. We may imagine what blessed fellowship they had in the word and in prayer and that wonderful farewell on the shore when men, women and children knelt in prayer.

Knowing the message of the Spirit through the disciples that Paul should not go up to Jerusalem, they earnestly refrained from feeling some sympathy about him, but they could not dissuade him from going on (verses 1-16).

At the cape what the Paul was some cried or he cried for they cried out Gal. 1, 10. Ne they had hope to a rioting Paul ple and beat kill him, as their hands his soldiers

As the cape what the Paul was some cried or he cried for they cried out Gal. 1, 10. Ne they had hope to a rioting Paul ple and beat kill him, as their hands his soldiers

Continuing their voyage then next at Caesarea at Philip, the evangelist, one whose four daughters and three daughters again we may easily know in the word. We cannot think of a Saviour, who had called a kingdom and glory joint heirs with himself, home of Philip a prophet named Agabus came up, strongly by the Spirit that Paul would certainly be given into the hands of the Therefore he was once more the believers not to go, but was that he was ready to and to die also for the Lord Jesus (verses 17-18).

Turner Rules That Anti-Speed Detective May Be Employed

In answer to a communication from the prosecuting attorney Joseph A. Dickelwit, asking for an opinion upon the legality of employing a person to detect automobiles breaking the speed laws, Attorney General Edward C. Turner holds that such a person may be retained by the county, under certain restrictions.

In an opinion he says in part: This statute, Sec. 3004 G. C., which terms authorizes an allowance in addition to that provided by Section 2914 of an amount equal to one half of the salary of the prosecuting attorney, expenses which may be incurred by him in the performance of his official duties and in the furtherance of justice in matters not otherwise provided for.

"If conditions obtain in your county in respect to the speeding of automobiles on county roads, such as you describe in your letter, it is manifest that some means should be adopted to end the same. Therefore, if in your judgment, it is necessary to have the services of some person to procure evidence against such offenders, I am of the opinion that such expenditure is warranted unless you have availed yourself of your privilege to appoint and have appointed a secret service officer, as provided by Section 2915-1."

"I must advise, therefore, in answer to your inquiry, that you may properly use the money allowed under the provisions of said section in the employment of a person or persons to procure evidence against violators of the laws regulating the speed of motor vehicles upon county roads, for your use before a grand jury, and in the prosecution of such offenders, if you have not appointed a secret service officer under the authority of Section 2915-1. If, however, you now have at your command the services of a secret service officer, such expenditure of money allowed under Section 3004, may not be made unless the services of such persons are reasonably necessary in addition to the services of a secret service officer.

The children's parade for the carnival has been changed from Thursday to Friday afternoon. This announcement was made by Albert Marting, chairman of the parade committee.

The Business Men's Association, and Albert Marting appeared before the Board of Education, at their meeting Friday evening and requested that the school children be given a half holiday Thursday afternoon, so that they could take part. The request was amended for Friday afternoon and allowed. The Quartet contest and the Cake Walk contest, which were to have been held Friday afternoon will be changed. They will be held Thursday afternoon.

Piketon Saloon Gets Lights; But Dry Man Leaves Board

Piketon, Sept. 9.—The "Blue Goose" saloon, as it is commonly called by the boys, owned by "Curly" Vulgamore, is to be equipped with electric light, the job to be furnished by the Piketon light plant.

The board is composed of three members, namely S. W. Miles, Elmer Dawson and John J. Rheinfrank.

There was some dissension among the members of the board. Elmer Dawson, secretary-treasurer, objected strenuously to the proposition although the proprietor of the saloon agreed to pay all expenses of wiring, etc. So bitter is Dawson against the liquor traffic that he permitted his prejudice to enter into the business relations of the board. It was different with the other two members. While neither Rheinfrank nor Miles are regarded as saloon men they did not permit their prejudice to sway their better judgment from the business proposition as it related to the corporation. They voted to connect the saloon with the power plant.

At this point in the meeting Dawson resigned from the board. The vacancy will be filled at the next regular meeting of council. Mayor Edw. G. Bateman having the appointing power. Dawson was an appointee under Mayor Bateman.

As soon as the result of the vote was made public work was started wiring the saloon and perhaps before this is in print the road up the river will make one think of the "Great White Way."

GOES BACK TO SEMINARY

Ralph Cornuelle, who has been assisting Rev. George P. Horst, at the Second Presbyterian church, has returned to the Lane Seminary, Cincinnati. While here, Mr. Cornuelle took an active interest in the organization of the young people of the church, and accomplished much good. He has charge of the C. E. Efficiency Institute held at this church this week.

BOY HIT BY AUTO

James De Lotelle, aged 8 years, came near being seriously hurt at Gallia and Bond streets Friday evening.

He was swinging himself on a chain attached to a hitching post. After amusing himself for a time he suddenly swung far out from the curb and directly in front of an automobile which struck him, knocking him down. It was soon found that the boy was more scared than hurt, the only injury being a slight one to one of his ankles. He was later able to walk to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Tena De Lotelle, of 517 Seventh street.

Rev. Horst Home

Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, returned Friday evening from a five weeks' vacation. Rev. Horst visited Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, Washington, D. C., Port Huron, Toledo and Detroit. While at Detroit, he visited home folks.

Rev. Horst was highly surprised on returning to find that the trustees of the church had granted him an increase in salary of $250 per year.

REMAINS RIGHT ON THE JOB

Thomas R. Millhuff, a well known dairyman, although an attack of locomotor ataxia which he suffered a month ago left him almost helpless, is still pluckily carrying on his dairy business.

Regularly every morning Mr. Millhuff is lifted into his milk wagon by relatives and he drives his horse over the route but a boy companion does the delivering of milk to the customers' gates.

Mr. Millhuff makes his home with his sister, Mrs. H. C. F. Smith, of 418 Chillicothe street.

Court Convenes Monday

September term of common pleas court will convene Monday morning at nine o'clock, according to an announcement made Saturday by John W. Hall, clerk of courts. Judge Thomas asks every attorney to be present when the term is formally opened.

Going After Big Game

Lafayette Taylor, well known citizen and big game hunter, will leave Sunday on a six weeks' hunting trip through Northern Montana. He expects to hunt in practically the same spot, where Henry T. Bannan is now hunting.

ATTENTION G. A. R.

All civil war veterans wishing to attend the reunion at Ironton next Wednesday, Sept. 13, can take N. &amp; W. train No. 18, which leaves here at 7 o'clock a. m., and arrive at Ironton at 8:15 a. m., giving us opportunity to take in the full program of the day and return same evening if so desired. ## INDUSTRIAL PARADE TO BE K. K. FEATURE

The Industrial parade is to be a moving panorama, depicting the products of the master workmen of Portsmouth.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the aides, held at the Board of Trade offices, Masonic Temple, Friday evening. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers are to take part.

Preliminary arrangements were made for the parade Friday. Albert Marting, chairman of the committee on parades, assigned three or more local industries to each aide. It is the duty of these aides to visit these concerns and obtain their consent to take part. Special invitations are to be mailed to the manufacturers and wholesalers.

The retailers, under whose auspices the Karnival is given, are expected to become active in the promotion of the parade, without solicitation.

A meeting will be held Tuesday evening, at seven-thirty o'clock. A report will be received on the work accomplished.

Considerable enthusiasm has been found among the local manufacturers, it was reported, over the idea of an industrial parade, which is to supplant the Boosters' parade of former years.

The committee on arrangements for the parade includes: John McMillan, chairman; Paul Esselhorn, R. H. Charlton, L. Lemon, John Voelker, Wallace Drew, Chris Heer, H. S. Hutchison, Henry Bertram, Frank W. Sheridan, Mark W. Selby, C. E. Ricker, A. J. McFarland, John Flannigan, Joseph Kuntz, Charles I. Chepney, W. P. Newkirk, Russell Stockham, Joseph Distel, A. H. Jordan, David Mitchell, George Keller and G. F. Jaynes.

It would do credit to a big city. The Tailoring Department of Hall Bros., Masonic Temple, leave your order now for a fall suit. adv 8&amp;9

Nate's Services Were In Demand

An amusing incident occurred in police court Friday. Mrs. Bess Hawkins, clearly dissatisfied because she had been fined for disorderly conduct in fighting Mrs. Elsie Wikoff, exclaimed angrily that she would get a lawyer. "I want Mr. Gilliland," she added. "Why I'm Mr. Gilliland," smilingly spoke up the Honorable Nate who had represented Mrs. Wikoff and prosecuted Mrs. Hawkins. The latter was abashed. While she had often heard of Mr. Gilliland she had never met him personally.

ENGLAND FIRM ON BLACKLIST

CRISIS EXPECTED IN THE CAR STRIKE TODAY

GREAT BRITAIN WILL NOT CHANGE POLICY; REPLY TO U. S. COMING

London, Sept. 9.—"It is not likely that Great Britain will change her blacklist policy at the request of the United States," said Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, in discussing today the possible effect of recent American retaliatory legislation. To the Associated Press, Lord Robert stated that a reply to the blacklist protest made by the United States may be expected soon.

Lord Robert, however, declined to enter into the details of the content of the reply beyond the statement that the principle embodied in British legislation forbidding trading with an enemy country, is unlikely to be surrendered in any measure.

The minister of war trade professed himself to be puzzled by the provisions in the revenue bill passed by congress at Washington dealing with the prohibition of imports, as such orders, he said, were adopted strictly in an effort to conserve tonnage and were applied accordingly.

In a general defense of British commercial acts, Lord Robert said to the Associated Press:

"Purest Moonshine"
"The ideas expressed by some of your newspapers that Great Britain is adopting a deliberate policy with which to injure American trade is the purest moonshine, since outside of our own dominions our trade with the United States is the most important, of course, natural trade rivalry exists, but no responsible statesman in this country would dream of proposing an insane measure designed to injure American commerce."

Prohibition Has Reduced Crime 50 Percent In W. Va. Claims Official

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Based on figures received in official reports from more than 50 municipalities in the state which show that the year before the law went into effect, there were 15,567 arrests, while during the first year after the liquor law was passed this number was reduced to 9,956, and the year following to 3,357.

Washington Is Deserted

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—House clerks were lousy, however, clearing up the work left after adjournment.

President Wilson was at Shadow Lawn, his summer home, with the White House staff, most diplomatic officials had not returned from the sea shore and mountains where they spend the summer, many government officials were on vacations. Senate and

"Any impression that the blacklist is merely an entering wedge for a trade warfare after the war may be dismissed at once. I assure you the blacklist is purely a war measure and I cannot insist too strongly that the government is taking every precaution to guarantee its enforcement so as to cause as little hardship as possible to innocent traders."

It was then pointed out to Lord Robert that the belief prevailed that consignments of firms trading with the blacklisted firms might be refused shipment from America to other neutral ports through fear of not getting coal. Lord Robert replied:

Will Not Interfere
"This fear is unfounded, as we have no desire to interfere, nor does the law contemplate an interference with legitimate trade. We are taking precautions to prevent an unjustified extension of the blacklist."

Lord Robert expressed the opinion that not only the purpose of the blacklist, but also the real design of the Paris economic conference was misunderstood by the United States, saying in this connection:

"The real purpose of the Paris conference was to arrive at some plan by which to prevent any resumption or extension of the political commercial system, prevalent before the war, in the first place, and in the second to devise means for accomplishing both for ourselves and our allies the enormous task of reconstruction. We fully realize that such plan must involve readjustments of existing treaties, which, with their favored nations clauses now stand in the way."

SUFFRAGE WILL BE VICTORIOUS IN SHORT TIME WILSON TELLS DELEGATES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Atlantic City, Sept. 9.—Triumph for the woman suffrage cause, "in a little while," was predicted by President Wilson here last night in a speech before the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association.

"I have come here to fight with you," the president declared. Immediately the 4,000 women present stood and cheered. A few minutes later Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, honorary president of the association with Mr. Wilson still present, declared: "We have waited long enough to get the vote. We want it now. I want it to come during your administration." Again the great audience of women stood and cheered, waving handkerchiefs.

The president's pledge of support to the suffrage question caused Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the organization, to say in a speech after he closed: "You touched our hearts and won our fealty when you said you have come to fight with us."

The president did not speak on the method by which he would bring about woman suffrage, but said, "We shall not quarrel in the long run as to the method of it."

The women in their speeches also failed to mention the question of method.

Becomes Impatient
Declaring that sometimes he became "a little impatient" over discussions about the channels through which votes for women are to come, the president caused the delegates to applaud by saying "I have felt here this wholesome contagion of the occasion."

Mr. Wilson aroused the greatest enthusiasm when he said, whenever he had come to Atlantic City previously he had come to fight against somebody but that on his present trip, he had "come to fight with somebody." The women in the boxes, the arches

ADMIT LOSS OF FORT

Bucharest, Rumania, Sept. 8.—(Via London).—The capture of the fortress of Turtukui, on the Danube, by German and Bulgarian troops is admitted in an official communication issued by the Rumanian war office today.

WILSON GOES TO SHADOW LAWN

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 9.—President Wilson who spoke here before the National Woman Suffrage Association, left here at 9 o'clock this morning by motor, for Long Branch, N. J., to make an extended stay at Shadow Lawn, his summer home.

CRUISER'S BOILERS EXPLODED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—Full details of the recent wreck of the armored cruiser Memphis in Santo Domingo harbor just received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Pond, show that two of the cruiser's boilers burst before she was thrown upon the rocks by the tidal wave. Earlier reports had indicated that breaking of a steam pipe crippled the ship and caused the large number of injuries among members of her crew. Of the forty men who lost their lives in the wreck, twenty-six were on board a launch swamped while returning from shore with the ship's base ball team. Five other men were drowned in a launch lowered after the explosion.

To Open Store

Edward C. Lauter, who for the past eleven years has been employed with Grocer Louis Schoett, has resigned his position to engage in the grocery business for himself. He has rented the Albert Nagel room at 917 Second street where he will be glad to welcome his friends after September 8. He expects to operate a first class store.

STRIKE BREAKERS TO BE USED ON THE SURFACE LINES

New York, Sept. 9.—Both sides again withdrew all its cars last night, but when the cars were sent out again this morning, the company announced that hereafter a regular 24 hour schedule will be maintained.

The striking car men were encouraged today by the promise of moral and financial support from the Central Federated Union, representing a half million trade unionists in New York City. It is announced that plans, still indefinite, have been made to call strikes in other branches of labor to support the traction men on the ground that their fight involves the main principle of organized labor and their defeat would mean the beginning of a move to break down labor unionism throughout the country through the medium of the individual contract.

The New York Railways Company, which operates the surface lines crippled by the strike,

SIXTEEN CARS ARE ENTERED IN THE INDIANAPOLIS RACE

Indianapolis, Sept. 9.—Sixteen cars were entered for the one hundred mile championship automobile race which was to be run at the Speedway here this afternoon.

Preceding the championship race, which has the sanction of the A. A. A., two shorter races were to be run. One was for twenty miles, and the other for fifty. Not all the drivers who have entered for the one hundred mile race entered the shorter ones. No elimination trials were held as all the cars entered have recently gone more than ninety miles an hour. The purse for the one hundred mile event is $9,000. That for the fifty mile is $2,000. The races were to start at 2 o'clock.

The following is the list of the sixteen drivers and their cars:

Driver	Car

STOCK TAX LIFTED

New York, Sept. 9.—After exchanging telegrams with Washington, stock exchange authorities reached the conclusion today that under the war revenue bill signed by the president yesterday sellers of stocks beginning today will be relieved of the federal stamp tax of 2 cents a hundred shares.

Mark Visner, collector of the third internal revenue district announced today that the law requiring revenue stamps on commodities and certain legal documents was repealed by the new revenue law and that beginning today no more stamps would be required on articles covered by stamp schedules A and B of the emergency war act of October 1914.

REINSTATE THE POSTAL EMPLOYEES, ARE ORDERS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—In view of the war department's order under which twelve regiments of national guardsmen soon are to be mustered out of the federal service, Postmaster General Burleson called the attention of postmasters to his previous instructions to immediately reinstate every postal employee in the same position and at the same salary as when he left to enter the military service.

PITCHERS AND CATCHERS VERY POOR

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 9.—Coach Billy Sullivan, of the Detroit Americans, who has been on a scouting trip, returned recently with the information that promising ball players are unusually scarce in the minor leagues this season.

Sullivan scoured the country from the New England League to the Pacific coast and did not make an offer for a single player. He said the pitchers and catchers were the poorest lot he ever looked over.

DRINK TO YOUR HEALTH

Kentucky Carlsbad Water

There is more to the caption of this little article than, at a glance, would appear.

If one would stop and consider what the drinking of PURE WATER means and then add to this the wonderful medicinal properties contained in Kentucky Carlsbad Water, one would get the full meaning of "Drink to Your Health."

This "WONDER WATER" comes from the earth at a depth of over 1,100 feet, is thoroughly filtered, which removes any possible foreign matter, but does not remove any of its health giving properties, and is put up in half-gallon bottles (six to a case) that have been thoroughly washed and cleansed and then sterilized with live steam.

To each case, as above described, is added one smaller bottle of the Natural Mineral Water, that has been fortified for use in cases of constipation or when the bowels need flushing.

Unless you are familiar with Kentucky Carlsbad Water you are, no doubt, wondering what the wonderful curative properties contained in this water are and what we claim for them?

If you will send for our free booklet, which gives the analysis of Kentucky Carlsbad Water, and submit same to your physician, he will tell you that by using the water in liberal quantities it will correct Uric Acid (the cause of most rheumatism) Albumen (the symptoms of Diabetes), and will give quick relief in cases of Stomach Trouble.

We have here at Dry Ridge, a thoroughly modern sanatorium and hotel, where patients receive prompt and permanent relief from all the above troubles.

Our rates are low and we would like to correspond with you in reference to your particular trouble. Write for booklet. Kentucky Carlsbad Springs Hotel Co., Incorporated, Dry Ridge, Ky.

Warriors To Get Busy

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 9.—Autumn football practice at the University of Michigan will start Tuesday, September 10. Candidates have been invited to report Monday. Four veterans have scholarly deficiencies to clear before they can join the squad. These men are: Pat Smith, fullback; Walter Niemann, center; James Whalen, end and "Fritz" Behor, guard.

TROUBLES AND JOYS.

The trouble with most of us is that our joys seem to sink out of sight in some inner quagmire and our pains take root on the thinnest soil and flourish like the green bay tree. What is the matter with us that a little irritation today can wipe out all the recollection of yesterday's glory?

INJURIES HURTS TEAM'S CHANCES

St. Louis, Sept. 9.—The chances of the St. Louis Americans for winning the pennant this season are not as bright as they were a few days ago—due to the injury of Henry Severid, the mainstay of the St. Louis catching department, in a recent game with Cleveland.

The injury will prove a costly one as Severid was pounding the ball hard and was pulling up a great game behind the bat.

Manager Jones undoubtedly will send Catcher Hartley behind the bat in the absence of Severid.

Early Landholding. Nothing is clearer than the fact that the system of landholding in the most ancient races was communal. Private right in land was for a long time unknown, the source of life being held in common between the members of the tribe. Not only land, but all property that in any way had to do with the general welfare, was looked upon as belonging to the whole tribe in common, no individual having the right to call it his own. Gradually and after a very long time, under the old regime, the right of private ownership began to creep in until at last it became the recognized rule pretty nearly everywhere.

YOU OR YOUR NEIGHBOR

So you think you are independent, you can live without your neighbor or any one else.
That is the worst sort of selfishness, the most dense kind of ignorance.

Let us say you are a farmer and see about that.
The district wagon stopped at your gate this morning to get your boy and take him off to school. Was that because he was your boy? Ridiculous. It was because your neighbor below and your neighbor above had a child that also must be educated, all the neighbors around and about contribute to pay the taxes that make the education of your son possible.

The rural carrier passed by your place today and dropped your daily paper and that welcome letter. Was that because it was you? Absurd. It was because there were other residents too and back on a stretch of twenty-five miles. May be you don't know the most of them, but they are your neighbors in common needs and demands.

A railroad runs by your place. Is it because it is your's? Not a bit. That railroad is thousands of miles long. You are only one among the thousands and thousands it serves. You may drop out of using it, you'll never be missed.

A road passes right in front of your place. Is that because it is yours? Certainly not. Everybody in the county contributes to the maintenance of that highway. It administers to a whole section. It would be a sorry one indeed, if it served only you.

Your farm is worth a $100. Is that because you till it? No, indeed. Your neighbors make the value of that farm just as much as you do. They have good farms themselves. They make a desirable community in which to live. If they all moved away and none came to plow, to plant and to reap in their places your farm wouldn't be worth the taxes you now pay on it.

One can't live either solely for himself, or to himself. The day of individualism, if it ever existed, has gone and gone forever. This is the age of co-operation and communal life. As our neighbor contributes to our profit and our progress so must we contribute to his. Of that which he knows and does better than us must we learn, of that in which we are superior to him must he share. By aid, by counsel, by joint effort and companionship we can make ourselves the sort of neighbor we know down in our heart we love best and joy in most of all.

GOOD FOR FIVE YEARS

Business is bound to be good in this country for five or six years more, according to a prominent officer of the steel corporation. The basis for the statement is the number of orders on hand—about as reliable indication as could be imagined. But the beauty of it is that these orders are not dependent upon the continuance of the war. The corporation has many war orders, and in the event of the termination of the war some of these orders would be cancelled. But it also has enough orders on hand, outside of the war orders to insure great activity for five or six years.

The steel industry is called the barometer of trade. The country is prosperous when the steel concerns are prosperous—or the steel concerns are prosperous when the country is prosperous, either way you want to state it. So business men have come to study the steel situation as an indication of what is to be expected in other times.

But there is still another evidence that prosperity will be with us for a time at least. That is the prosperity of the farming community. The United States is still an agricultural nation, to a large extent. When the farmers are enjoying "good times", everybody else is doing so; with plenty of money in the country there is plenty of trade.

While the wheat crop is a little smaller this year than it was last year, there was still a tremendous crop raised, only a little less than a billion bushels. The corn crop is a big one, and all other crops are large. Stock upon the farm is bringing unprecedented prices—everything the farmer has to sell is commanding fancy figures, in fact, and that means prosperity for the farmer. So we can accept it as a fact that prosperity will be with us for a year at least, basing the prediction upon the present standing of the farmer, and we will lose nothing by believing that times are going to be good for five or six years more, basing our belief upon the statement of the steel magnate.—Dayton News.

A MONUMENTAL WORK

AN EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Eight hours for work, eight hours for play and eight hours for sleep, is the generally accepted standard of ideal conditions, and the passage of the Adamson bill and the discussion relative to it, has prompted the query: "Who wants to work only eight hours?"

There is a general clamor for eight hours work for the other fellow, but the workers who want to stop at eight hours a day are confined principally to those who by the very nature of their work get fatigued in body and mind and after eight hours show a decreased efficiency.

We all can recall many men who not only work eight hours a day, but 12 and 14 and then seek some added task. They thrive under it, live long lives and are often the great masters of industry and achievement.

Eight hours sleep are really essential, but the eight hours of play or recreation are not. Play in almost every instance is harder than our daily tasks. If society demanded that to earn money one had to go on the tennis court every day and play at top speed; or walk five miles over an 18-hole golf course, the theory of work would be changed. A contemporary, the Louisville Courier-Journal, takes the less strenuous sort of play to comment as follows:

"The normal human being knows well enough that play often is harder than work. He knows that when he plays he often sits up too late playing—not only poker, but also playing at dancing with idle young girls who may sleep when he is at work, or playing with his favorite authors; or in other ways stealing from his sleep time, a little more play than he ought to have, but his work rarely exhausts him. That is, it does not if he makes a liberal allowance of time for sleep."

We can't wholly abandon the belief that we get far more fatigued from playing than we do from working.

After all, one could get along pretty comfortable in this life if it would not be for one's pleasures.—Charleston, W. Va., Gazette.

HEALTH WITHOUT COST

It costs nothing to stand erect and breathe and walk properly. It costs nothing to have fresh air in your home.

It costs nothing to masticate one's food thoroughly; this insures better digestion and less of the expensive, highly flavored food is consumed, money and health are saved.

It costs nothing to cleanse the teeth thoroughly after each meal. By so doing you may save not only dentists' bills, but surgeons' and doctors' bills.

It costs nothing to eat some crusty foods that give proper employment to the teeth and thus save dentists' bills. It costs nothing to choose the kinds of food that the body needs.

It costs nothing to keep out of your body substances like alcohol that are known to be injurious.

It costs nothing to adjust your diet so that the more expensive flesh foods are not taken in excess.

It costs nothing to avoid eating between meals candy and sweets that have high fuel value and are liable to irritate the stomach.

It costs nothing to feed the mind with wholesome mental food instead of trash or morbid literature that easily decomposes and poisons your whole life.—Irish World.

The "Sting" of Death.

The sting of death physically is nothing. A man who has lost consciousness to the water, a man who has been under an anesthetic, a man strangled in an accident—these have been in effect dead, and yet they know nothing of death. In speaking of it the most glaring contradictions pass quite naturally for axioms. It is the "gentle hand," but it is also the "grimy terror." It is "beautiful" and "wonderful," but it is also "terrible."—London Spectator.

The New Members

AFTER THAT ONE big slide down the bank nothing was hard. Father Beaver swam around in the pond as though he liked nothing better than showing off his skill. He swam under the water and he pushed one, two, three logs before him. Mother Beaver turned summer-rolls in the water and dived and acted like a regular water baby and Burby and Little Brother Beaver did all the pretty stunts their parents had taught them. And when they couldn't think of anything more to do, they came dripping out of the water up toward the Wiggle-skens.

Such a reception as they did get, too! All the beavers and muskrats in that whole band crowded around and told them what a nice stunt they had done and how well they had done it and how wonderfully they swam and all that. Indeed, if Father Beaver had been able to forget that one awful minute of feebly before Burby told him what to do, I think all the compliments would have turned his head. But he couldn't forget—and perhaps, after all, it was just as well that he couldn't, don't you think so?

When ever he was through talking, the great, big beaver got up and, in his great, big, pompous voice, said, "I nominate these four for members in the honorable order of Wiggle-skens!"

And everybody (except the new-comers) said, "Aye! Aye!" Just that way.

"And so you are Wiggle-skens," announced the leader, "and what shall be your family name?"

For a wonder, no one had thought of that. Of course the new members could not have thought of it, because they didn't know that when a beaver was elected to the order of Wiggle-skens they had a family name given them. Policeman Billy had forgotten to tell them. And the old members had not thought of it because they had been so interested in the affairs and fun of the evening.

The leader beaver, he looked at the Wiggle-skens and then he rubbed his forelock in a puzzled fashion. "What shall it be?" he mumbled.

"Yes, what shall it be?" asked all the Wiggle-skens. Just then Burby, who ought to have been paying close attention, but who wasn't, noticed his tail. That slide down the bank had rubbed off a lot of his fur—a lot!

Quickly he looked at his brother's tails and his father's and his mother's tails and they all had fur rubbed off too—a lot! "Dear me!" he exclaimed right out in meeting, "your tails are shorter than they were!"

"Then Short-tail Beavers you shall be called," said the leader beaver quickly. "Short-tail Beavers you are from this day."

And that is the story of how the Short-tail Beaver family joined the ranks of the Wiggle-skens at the side of Pinkley Pool.

At last old Pop Knickerbocker has floored the taxi pirates. Pretty new white taxicabs—200 of them—are now darting about the streets and carrying passengers for twenty cents for the first third of a mile and ten cents for each third of a mile thereafter.

The rate was recently reduced from 20 cents for the first third of a mile and then to 20 cents, and now comes the drop to 20. The Evening World started the fight against high taxi rates, and to this paper is due the credit for winning the low fare. The crusade was conducted by the World by Sophie Irene Loch, a woman writer.

Two rounders were seated in an all night restaurant at Sunria. They were bleary-eyed and yawning.

Doc Koko's Kolossal Melodrama

She struggled vainly to arrest the villain's vengeful hand. He dragged her round and round the stage.

And cursed to beat the band. Said he: "Your lover is a chump. Your brother is a thief. Your father stole a horse one time. And drive your ma to grief."

"Unhand me, villain," then she cried, "Or you will rue this day."

"I'll scream for help," she did it, too. But no help came that way.

"You love me," cried the villain. As he grabbed her by the hair. "This false," she cried in anguish wild.

And wilted o'er her chair; "This false," she screamed, "tis false," again.

"As false as false can be." He found three switches in his hands; "It surely is," said he.

INDUSTRIAL PARADE TO BE K. K. FEATURE

The Industrial parade is to be a take part. Special invitations are moving panoramas, depicting the products of the master workmen of Portsmouth.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the aides, held at the Board of Trade offices, Masonic Temple, Friday evening. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers are to take part.

Preliminary arrangements were made for the parade Friday. Albert Marting, chairman of the committee on parades, assigned three or more local industries to each side. It is the duty of these aides to visit these concerns and obtain their consent to

The brand on which John O'Connor tanked up Friday was of the real fighting stuff, he trying to knock a big Mallet engine off the N. & W. tracks Friday afternoon.

O'Connor is a stranger though judging from the way he later addressed Joe Stokley as Marshal Davis must have been at New Boston at one time in his life. He had been staggering around in the N. & W. freight house yards on Tenth street above Lincoln street. A switch engine came dangerously near running over him and a moment later the engineer of the freight train shouted to him just in the nick of time.

O'Connor made several wild swings at the passing monster locomotive and then turned on Sergeant John Smith and Police Clerk Harry Johnson who arrived in response to a hurry call. O'Connor acted like a wild man for hours after he was locked up at the city prison.

DAIRY BARN FUEL FOR GREEDY FLAMES

While the city was enshrouded in a heavy blanket of fog early Saturday morning, fire was discovered in a dairy barn belonging to Henry T. Hanes, rear of 2505 Gallia street.

The fire had gained considerable of a headway before the East End and Hilltop companies were summoned. The building was completely destroyed with a loss of about $1,200, partially covered by insurance.

The alarm was sounded at 2:24 and the fire was out at 3:30 a. m.

Lately, Mr. Hanes uses his barn only for milking purposes, and his stock was in a pasture when the fire was discovered. Twelve tons of hay was stored in the mow. It was a complete loss.

Firemen succeeded in saving adjacent buildings.

Fire Chief George Koerner stated Saturday that he desired to thank Mrs. R. D. Wamsley, 2501 Gallia street, for the hot luncheon which she served his men after the fire was extinguished.

Officer J. H. Lewis qualified as a real hero at the Henry Hanes barn fire at Gallia and Linden avenues early Saturday morning, when he prevented a calf from committing "suicide."

Lewis noticed the despondent look in the calf's face and kept a close watch on it. Suddenly, and without warning, the calf made a dash into the burning barn. Quick as a flash Lewis grabbed the animal, and leading it a safe distance, tied it to a convenient post.

Turner Rules That Anti-Speed Detective May Be Employed

In answer to a communication from Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait, asking for an opinion upon the legality of employing a person to detect automobiles breaking the speed laws, Attorney General Edward C. Turner holds that such a person can be retained by the county, under certain restrictions.

In an opinion he says in part: "This statute, Sec. 3004 G. C., in plain terms authorizes an allowance in addition to that provided by Section 2914 of an amount equal to one half of the salary of the prosecuting attorney for expenses which may be incurred by him in the performance of his official duties and in the furtherance of justice in matters not otherwise provided for.

"If conditions obtain in your county in respect to the speeding of automobiles on county roads, such as you describe in your letter, it is manifest that some means should be adopted to end the same. Therefore, if in your judgment, it is necessary to have the services of some person to procure evidence against such offenders, I am of the opinion that such expenditure is warranted unless you have availed yourself of your privilege to appoint and have appointed a secret service officer, as provided by Section 2915-1.

"I must advise, therefore, in answer to your inquiry, that you may properly use the money allowed under the provisions of said section in the employment of a person or persons to procure evidence against violators of the laws regulating the speed of motor vehicles upon county roads, for your use before a grand jury, and in the prosecution of such offenders, if you have not appointed a secret service officer under the authority of Section 2915-1. If, however, you now have at your command the services of a secret service officer, such expenditure of money allowed under Section 3004, may not be made unless the services of such persons are reasonably necessary in addition to the services of a secret service officer.

Going After Big Game

Lafayette Taylor, well known citizen and big game hunter, will leave Sunday on a six weeks' hunting trip through Northern Montana. He expects to hunt in practically the same spot, where Henry T. Bannan is now hunting.

BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN TRENCH

London, Sept. 9.—The British captured a German trench in Highwood, on the Somme front, after a sharp fight last night, it was announced officially today. German troops made several attacks during the night, but none of them in force. The statement follows:

Last night there was some sharp hand to hand fighting in Highwood, where we captured a German trench, taking two officers and nineteen Bavarians. In this operation heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

"There has been considerable hostile artillery activity against our front north of Pozieres and in the neighborhood of Mouquet Farm. In this sector small hostile infantry attacks were easily repulsed. A detachment of the enemy, which attempted to advance from the direction of Concrete, was stopped by our fire. Our troops carried out several successful enterprises in the neighborhood of Arras and the Heuzellere redoubt and north of Neuve Chapelle. The enemy's trenches were entered, some prisoners were taken and other casualties were inflicted."

25 Organizations Will March

The Ladies of the Maccabees have notified Paul Esselborn, chairman of the committee on arrangements for the Fraternal parade, which will be held the second evening of the Greater 1916 Korn Carnival, that they intended to take part.

This organization expects to enter the parade with a handsome float.

In all there are twenty-five fraternal organizations who signified their intention of taking part in this event.

Nate's Services Were In Demand

An amusing incident occurred in police court Friday. Mrs. Bess-Hawkins, clearly dissatisfied because she had been fined for disorderly conduct in fighting Mrs. Elsie Wikoff, exclaimed angrily that she would get a lawyer.

"I want Mr. Gilliland," she added.

"Why I'm Mr. Gilliland," smilingly spoke up the Honorable Nate who had represented Mrs. Wikoff and prosecuted Mrs. Hawkins.

The latter was abashed. While she had often heard of Mr. Gilliland she had never met him personally.

Space Is Transferred

The Fourth Street Methodist church has transferred its space which was allotted to them for the Korn Carnival Community dinner—the opening event of the Carnival—to the Fourth Street Epworth League. The proceeds are to be applied on their pledge for the new church, which is nearing completion.

REMAINS RIGHT ON THE JOB

Thomas R. Millhuff, a well known dairyman, although an attack of locomotor ataxia which he suffered a month ago left him almost helpless, is still pluckily carrying on his dairy business.

Regularly every morning Mr. Millhuff is lifted into his milk wagon by relatives and he drives his horse over the route but a boy companion does the delivering of milk to the customers' gates.

Mr. Millhuff makes his home with his sister, Mrs. H. C. F. Smith, of 416 Chillicothe street.

C. & O. FLYER DITCHED AT MEDFORD, INDIANA

Muncie, Ind., Sept. 9.—Traveling forty miles an hour east-bound Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train Number 4 was ditched at a point near Medford, eight miles southeast of Muncie, last night.

The engine was turned over on its side and the dining car, baggage car and day coach were derailed.

The most seriously injured was A. E. Becker, baggageman of Chicago, whose left foot was mashed.

Spreading rails caused the wreck.

Train No. 4 is due here at 12:04 a. m., and is known as the New York Flyer. When officials learned that it had figured in a wreck an extra No. 4 was made up at Cincinnati last night and arrived here on time. Passengers on the derailed No. 4 came East today on C. & O. No. 6.

Robinson's Circus Here September 13

The circus that has been entertaining the American public for the last eighty-nine consecutive years—the John Robinson Ten Big Shows, is coming to Portsmouth on Sept. 13.

The advance news-pilot—the press agent, is here, and so is a brigade of more than a score of billposters, bannermen and program distributors, and that spells publicity—the one very important element in the van of any itinerant amusement organization. This outfit arrived here yesterday in the No. 1 advertising car, a gaily painted and flashily lettered compression passenger coach that has since been attracting a lot of attention in the local B. & O. yards.

Dog Was Infected

Samuel Carson, single, who resides with his brother Charles Carson on the Yammeter farm near Piketon was several days ago bitten through the thumb by a dog. The dog's head was sent to Columbus and word was received by Carson that the dog was infected.

Piketon Saloon Gets Lights; But Dry Man Leaves Board

Piketon, Sept. 9.—The "Blue Goose" saloon, as it is commonly called by the boys, owned by "Curly" Yungmire, is to be equipped with electric light, the juice to be furnished by the Piketon light plant.

So said the Board of Public Affairs at a recent meeting. The board is composed of three members, namely S. W. Miles, Elmer Dawson and John J. Rheinfrank.

There was some discussion among the members of the board. Elmer Dawson, secretary-treasurer, objected strenuously to the proposition although the proprietor of the saloon agreed to pay all expenses of wiring, etc.

So bitter is Dawson against liquor traffic that he permitted his prejudice to enter into the business relations of the board. It was different with the other two members. While neither Rheinfrank nor Miles are regarded as saloon men they did not permit their prejudice to sway their better judgment from the business proposition as it related to the corporation. They voted to connect the saloon with the power plant.

At this point in the meeting Dawson resigned from the board. The vacancy will be filled at the next regular meeting of council. Mayor Edw. G. Bateman having

GOES BACK TO SEMINARY

Ralph Cornuelle, who has been assisting Rev. George P. Horst, at the Second Presbyterian church, has returned to the Lane Seminary, Cincinnati. While here, Mr. Cornuelle took an active interest in the organization of the young people of the church, and accomplished much good. He has charge of the C. E. Efficiency Institute held at this church this week.

Rev. Horst Home

Rev. George P. Horst, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, returned Friday evening from a five weeks' vacation. Rev. Horst visited Philadelphia, Atlantic City, New York, Washington, D. C., Port Huron, Toledo and Detroit. While at Detroit, he visited home folks.

Rev. Horst was highly surprised on returning to find that the trustees of the church had granted him an increase in salary of $250 per year.

BOY HIT BY AUTO

James De Lotelle, aged 8 years, came near being seriously hurt at Gallia and Bond streets Friday evening.

He was swinging himself on a chain attached to a hitching post. After amusing himself for a time he suddenly swung far out from the curb and directly in front of an automobile which struck him, knocking him down. It was soon found that the boy was more scared than hurt, the only injury being a slight one to one of his ankles. He was later able to walk to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Penn De Lotelle, of 547 Seventh street.

Contract Awarded

Ironton, Sept. 9.—The board of control has awarded the contract for the pumping machinery of the new water works system to the Empire-Carpenter Co., of Pittsburgh.

The bid was for $27,738, covering electrically driven pumps which the director of service has decided to install.

A Prayer.

Open wide the windows of our spirits, O Lord, and let us feel of light, open wide the door of our hearts that we may receive and entertain thee with all the powers of adoration and love. Amen.—Christian G. Rossetti.

Board Wants Triangular Strip; To Begin Condemnation Proceedings

A resolution was passed by the Board of Education at their regular meeting, held Friday evening, instructing City Solicitor S. A. Schuchman to bring condemnation proceedings against Samuel B. Thompson for the possession of a triangular strip of land, which adjoins the tract recently bought from Judge Noah J. Dever, upon which the new McKinley school will be built. It was stated that the board desired this triangular strip for park purposes, and the owner failed to name a satisfactory price.

Permission was granted to the executive committee of the Korn Carnival to use the west half of the Second street school yard for exhibition purposes during the drinking fountains installed in the Second street school building.

Switch Children's Parade From Thursday To Friday Afternoon

The children's parade for the Korn Carnival has been changed from Thursday to Friday afternoon. This announcement was made by Albert Marting, chairman of the parade committee.

Albert Zedlner, president of the Business Men's Association, and Albert Marting appeared before the Board of Education, at their meeting Friday evening and requested that the school children be given a half holiday Thursday afternoon, so that they could take part. The request was unmetted for Friday afternoon and allowed. The Quartet contest and the Take Walk contest, which were to have been held Friday afternoon will be changed. They will be held Thursday afternoon.
